

Theta Wins Three Posts In Council

Fay Lane Is First Woman to Win Board Position. Cunningham Re-elected.

LANE POLLS 107 VOTES

The election of Miss Fay Lane to the Board of Student Publications and the winning of three Student Council positions by members of Theta Phi Delta fraternity, were highlights of the all-University election held in the men's faculty building October 6.

Miss Lane, the first woman to be elected to the Publications Board, polled 107 votes to easily outdistance her three men opponents, Glenn Cunningham, Woodrow Tietzort, and Franklin Buxton. Cunningham, a member of the Board last year, finished second to retain his seat on the Board.

Two Thetas, John Moucka and Robert Johnson, were elected Student Council men representatives at large. Robert Richardson, winner of the freshman class student

Omaha Holds Coe To Scoreless Tie

Kohawks Outgain Omaha Through Line

The Omaha University gridders made their bow before the home folks at League park last Saturday by holding Coe College of Cedar Rapids, Ia., to a 0-0 tie.

Although the Kohawks outgained the Omahans almost two to one through the line, it was the Cards who made the big scoring threat of the battle, when they took advantage of a big gain in a punting exchange and Noel King's recovery of a Coe fumble in the third quarter. The recovery gave the Cards the ball on the Coe 24-yard line, and on the second play Leo Pearey threw a 20-yard pass to Jimmie James, Omaha game captain, who leaped into the air and snagged the ball on his finger tips. With first down and goal to go from the four-yard stripe, Pearey called Gene Hoover's signal four times in succession—twice through the line, once around left end, and again through the line. The drive lacked inches of crossing the goal line.

Morris Loder's long, spiraling boots were again a big factor in the Omahans' game. Morris added placement to distance in the Coe game, sending one long kick out on the five-yard stripe and another out 10 yards from the goal.

Omaha's offense, which was thoroughly bottled up in the first half, enabled the Cardinals to stay in Coe territory all through the second half. A passing attack, which netted 50 yards in eight attempts, was a big part of the Cardinal offense.

Leon Fouts, '34, our new physical education instructor, already has his eyes on the 1935 Cardinal eleven. His new son, Richard Lee, weighing in at nine pounds, six ounces, will undoubtedly make a strong bid for the captaincy of the squad at that future date.

DIRECTORY TO APPEAR LATE

Because of unexpected delay in compiling the lists for the directory the book will appear on the campus Monday, according to Duane Butler, editor.

The publication of the directory marks the end of three months' effort on the part of the staff to maintain the high standard of Omaha University publications. Mr. Butler is assisted by Warren Novak and William Baynes.

PWA Builds Half Of New Schools

Bess Goodykoontz Expresses Recognition of P. W. A. Assistance to Budgets.

(New York Times)

Washington, September 8.—More than half the public school construction now going on in the United States is being financed through the PWA, Administrator Harold L. Ickes announced.

Timing the statement with the beginning of a new scholastic year the administrator said that more than $210,000,000 had been added to the capital outlay for school building construction as direct result of the $3,700,000,000 PWA program.

He pointed out that without Federal assistance through public works adding capital assets to the nation's wealth there would be only a negligible amount of school construction this year.

Recognition of the extent to which PWA has come to the rescue of the nation's educational facilities curtailed by the depression was voiced by Bess Goodykoontz, Acting Commissioner of Education.

Some idea of the extent of the PWA's contribution to increasing the nation's educational facilities may be gained from the following:

Through the middle of August the PWA had allotted $133,866,269 for 1,071 educational buildings in every part of the country.

SIGMAS HOLD MEETING

A talk on Chinese poetry was the feature of the first meeting of Sigma Tau Delta, national literary fraternity, at the Women's Faculty building Tuesday evening.

The group discussed plans for an international program for the coming year. Bernard Pawloski, '34, played a group of piano numbers, and Mrs. Geneva Torrey and Edythe Brobmann, '34, served as hostesses.

Debate Question Presented

"Resolved: That nations should agree to prevent international shipment of arms and munitions" is the question presented by Pi Kappa Delta, national debating fraternity. This new subject for controversy and the recruiting of new members will be the main business at the Debate Club's meeting Monday at 4 p. m. in Room 3. All students interested in debate are invited to attend.

Cardinal Pep Organization Acts Today

Kearney-Omaha Tilt Will Be Scene For Initial Game Activity of Pep Club.

FIVE CHEER-LEADERS

The Cardinal Pep club, recently organized pep squad, will occupy reserved seats on the fifty-yard line at the Kearney-Omaha football game at Western League Park at 8:00 o'clock tonight. Members will wear red sweaters trimmed in black with chenille cardinals on the front. Five girl cheer-leaders have been appointed: Maxine Steincamp, president of the club and head cheer-leader; Bernice Meade, Amy Rohacek, Catherine Davis, and Mary Alice Nelson.

Tickets for the home basketball games are to be sold to squad members at half price, according to C. L. Hartman, athletic director. Miss Ruth Diamond, women's athletic director, is sponsoring the club.

"We hope to have really fancy display cheers with red and black cards for the Peru game on November 2," Miss Steincamp said at a meeting of the club Thursday noon.

Membership is limited to five students from each Greek organization and ten from the barbs. The sixty members are:

Sigma Chi Omicron: Dorothy Anderson, secretary of the Cardinal Pep club; Mary Rigg, Joan Dorsey, Charlotte Fisher, and Winifred Whipple. Pi Omega Pi: Eleanor Johnson, Minnette Myers, Carol Chalman, Annette Lloyd, and Marjorie Clark. Gamma Sigma Omicron: Margaret Rhoads, Elaine

ADAMS ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY

Ernie Adams, head coach at Benson High school and former University of Omaha athlete, gave an inspiring talk at the football rally this morning. Dr. W. H. Thompson, Dean of Men, was chairman of the occasion, and the Cardinal Pep club, resplendent in their red and black sweaters, were in active charge. The Pep club is making preparations for a big team rally to be held Thursday before the team leaves for Wayne.

Government Club Holds Meeting

Purpose of Club to Provide Center for Free Discussion of International Affairs.

The International Relations club held its first meeting of the year Wednesday evening at the home of S. L. Witman, assistant professor of government. Edwin Callin, president of the club last year, presided.

The aims of the club, as outlined at the meeting by Mr. Witman, are to provide a center for an entirely free discussion of international problems as they affect young men and young women and to try to remove some of the obscurities which surround the facts of international relations.

The club is to become affiliated with the Carnegie Institute of International Relations and will build up a library of books dealing with international subjects. Membership in the club is open to any student in the University interested in international relations, Mr. Witman said.

Omaha University Students Secure Experience With Theatrical Group

Maybe it is not even generally suspected around the campus, but five University of Omaha students had two weeks' experience with a traveling theatrical group last summer.

The five are Virginia Lea Long, '37, Sylvan Frankel, '37, Howard Fischer, '34, Paul Brawner, '35, and Larry Forsyth, '37. There were many more young men and women in the group, but the others who completed the Shakespearean cast were not students.

Late in June the Follo Players left Omaha by automobile for Evergreen, Colorado, in the celebrated Bear Creek Canyon. They had contracted to play Shakespearean plays for two weeks at what is known as the Opera House of Evergreen.

Tourists loitering around Evergreen and Troutdale made up the audience. From their response to the rendition of Macbeth, Taming of the Shrew, Hamlet, and Merchant of Venice, it is believed that some even enjoyed and appreciated the acting.

These young people admit that acting is a hard life, what with rehearsing every forenoon and presenting the act in the evening; still they found time for some fun every day. Horses were available a short distance from the cabins. Learning to ride horseback in rocky canyons, and along precipitous granite walls, mounted on branded cow ponies, is an experience in itself, as Sylvan Frankel and Paul Brawner will grudgingly admit. A rollosome broncho even ran away with Paul Brawner. Down the rocky canyon he thundered, and as he disappeared around the curve, all the companions could see was a flourishing tail, flying hoofs, and plenty of daylight between Brawner and the saddle.

There was dancing, too, at Evergreen, and the actors and actresses were quite the attraction for the tourist crew.

Side trips to Denver now and then broke the monotony, if indeed it could truthfully be said that there was a monotony. Another side trip that was a thriller was the trip to Central City, Colorado, the famous mining town of the '70s. It was here that the super movie, "The Silver Dollar," was filmed. Central City is the real "Deserted Village" of America.

The high altitude was almost too much for the Omahans the first few days at Evergreen. They soon became accustomed to it, however, and enjoyed to the fullest their two weeks of theatrics.

Cards Play Kearney 11 Tonight

Omaha Favored to Repeat Repeat 1933 Win Over Foe in First Conference Game.

AT LEAGUE PARK

The Omaha University Cardinals will try their wings against their first conference opponent tonight, when they meet the Kearney State Teachers at League park. The kickoff is scheduled for 8 p. m.

The Cards trimmed the outstaters 6 to 0 in their meeting last year and are favored to repeat the triumph, and get off to a good start in the Nebraska Intercollegiate Athletic association race. The Cards were nosed out of the league flag at the end of the season last year, placing second behind Chadron, while Kearney was at the bottom of the standings with a season record of two ties and six losses.

Although the Teachers boast a better record this season than the Cards, the higher class opposition which Coach Sed Hartman's outfit has encountered entitles them to

McGrath Praises Omaha In Speech

Ex-Notre Dame Man At Assembly

Omaha University's athletic teams were praised as "comers" in mid-west sports by Frank McGrath, former Notre Dame gridder, in an inspiring talk at the football pep assembly in the gymnasium last Friday.

McGrath, who was a reserve back during the reign of the famous "Four Horsemen" at South Bend, also complimented the faculty of the school for their support of athletics and for their realization that the sports program is an essential part of college life.

Besides his actual playing experience, McGrath gained further knowledge of football technique during the past few years, when he served as N. B. C. announcer for University of Nebraska games. He is now a candidate for clerk of the district court.

DEAN ASSUMES POST

Mrs. Rene Stevens, dean of women, assumed her position as second vice-president and program chairman of the Omaha League of Women Voters Monday afternoon at a membership tea in the Aquila Court club rooms. At that time she announced the program for the year.

Professor S. L. Witman of Municipal University spoke on "International Policies."

TWENTY GIRLS HIKE

The Women's Athletic Association held an observation hike at Hummel Park Thursday afternoon. A group of about twenty girls hiked along the River Drive, noting the different trees, flowers, vines and birds.

Lucille Mitchell won the grand prize, a sack of jollypops, for observing the most unusual objects.

BUILDING PROJECT

WITH deep disappointment friends of Municipal University read the refusal of PWA officials to approve the building project because the regents lacked power to borrow money. Hopes for new buildings and an adequate campus, which the University so sorely needs, rested on the completion of the $1,000,000 PWA project.

Not only is Omaha deprived of adequate facilities for its University, but what is even more important in these times, several hundred Omaha workers are to lose the year's work the project would furnish. This loss will be keenly felt during the coming winter months by scores of local carpenters, bricklayers, masons, iron workers, and other laborers who would have found employment on the project.

The decision of PWA officials will retard the development of Municipal University, but it is by no means a fatal blow to the institution. The University can continue to strengthen and increase the faculty, the library can be augmented by the addition of more books, and the regents can keep up the practice of setting aside a portion of each year's revenues to be used for a building program in the not too distant future.

Friends of Municipal University can take a great deal of pride in the progress the institution has made the past three years. Despite the PWA decision, the outlook for Municipal University is rosy and the future promises much.

The building project is not dead; it is only postponed.

Kappa Psi Delta

At the Kappa Psi Delta meeting held at the home of Patricia Bush plans were completed for the pledge dance to be held in the gymnasium on October 26. Theda Anthes is chairman of the dance committee.

Committees were appointed to plan a Halloween party to be given by the active chapter on October 31 at the home of Beverly Ballyntine. Virginia Barnum and Barbara Seaman were elected mascots of the sorority.

The pledges entertained the actives with music and readings.

Phi Delta Psi

Phi Delta Psi sorority formally pledged Bernice Dohrse, Fern Fitch, Sue Hall, Janet Hamilton, Hally Henshaw, Alpha Hunter, Christine Nall, Betty O'Grady, Margery Peterson, Maxine Sunderman, and Carol Wigton. Margery Charles and Marjaret Kurigan were formally initiated into the sorority. November 9 was set as the date for the pledge dance.

Pi Omega Pi

Pi Omega Pi sorority held its regular meeting last Monday evening at the Fontenelle hotel. November 30 has been set as the date for the pledge dance. The decorations and theme for the dance are to be kept a secret.

Tuesday afternoon the pledges will entertain the actives' chapter at a picnic for the girls only.

Sigma Chi Omicron

Sigma Chi Omicron pledges held a meeting Thursday, October 4, at the home of Virginia Anderson, pledge president. Arrangements were made for the pledge dance, which is to be held in the gymnasium on November 16.

Last Monday the pledges gave a picnic at Marion Wilson's cabin for their sorority mothers.

Phi Sigma Phi

Phi Sigma Phi fraternity met Monday night, October 8, at the home of Bob Race, 3408 Webster street. Paul Brawner was elected Deputy Grand Master, due to the fact that Wilson Schollman, former Deputy Grand Master, did not return to school this semester.

Al Thornton, a pledge of 1933-'34, was formally initiated, and the pledges made final arrangements for the pledge dance.

Sullenger's Work Accepted

A portion of Dr. T. Earl Sullenger's work in Urban Sociology recently appeared in "The Fields and Methods of Sociology," edited by Dr. L. L. Bernard, Washington University, and published by Farrar and Rinehart, New York. Thirty-three other sociologists contributed to this volume of 521 pages.

The University of Chicago Press will publish early this fall a volume on Delinquency Areas. Dr. Sullenger has written one chapter for this volume based on his social studies in Omaha. Dr. Clifford R. Shaw, director of research, Institute for Juvenile Research in Chicago, is editor of this book.

Universities in Japan have only 35 women students.

Within a few years the University will possess adequate building facilities and a new campus. With an able faculty, an adequate library, and new buildings, Municipal University will then take its rightful place in Omaha's educational system.—F. B.

Tom Organ Repeats Rifle Contest Win

Tom Organ, a senior engineering student, realized a four years' ambition this season by defeating all competition in the Mid-Western 1934 Rifle Tournament. This season's victory marks the fourth consecutive win by Organ in as many seasons. He is a member of the Ak-Sar-Ben Rifle Club.

Through a series of 17 matches, he totaled 5995-6800, to get an average of 374.6, the highest average ever fired over this course.

In the team match, the team of which Organ was a member, was also victorious for the fourth straight year. The team, consisting of Tom Organ, Purnell Thomas, '37, and Harold Waller, of Council Bluffs, won each of its 17 matches.

Tom has been active in shooting, both big and small bore, for some years. In 1929 he won the Seventh Corps area C. M. T. C. championship and was sent to the national rifle matches at Camp Perry as representative shooter for his area.

On the Washington records, Tom is accredited with being the youngest competitor to fire in the national matches, and the youngest man to ever lead a national championship team, as he did in 1930, when Nebraska won the Evans trophy match.

JAMES TALKS AT WINDSOR

Dr. Gilbert W. James gave the first of a series of eight lectures on Browning at Windsor School last Thursday, October 11. Dr. James has divided his lectures into four main divisions: Philosophical background for the study of Browning, Browning's Theory of Romantic Love, Browning's Philosophy of Art, and Browning's Religion. The course is being given in connection with the extension division of the University.

ELECT CHEMISTRY PREXY

Bill Haberstroh, '35, was elected president of the Chemistry club at an election held Friday, October 5, in the Science hall. John Hadfield was elected vice-president and Anna Thurston secretary-treasurer. Gus Hershman will be Gateway correspondent. Miss Nell Ward, instructor in chemistry, is the sponsor.

DOES COLLEGE PAY?

The one kind of insurance which we thought impossible has been put into effect at Missouri U.—insurance against flunking! Students at old Mizzou who hold this policy are paid enough to take the subject in the summer session. The American Campus reports almost $100,000 spent at Ohio State for similar insurance.

rule as favorites in tonight's battle. Kearney won its first game 33 to 0 over Hebron College and lost last week to Nebraska Wesleyan. The Cardinals, meanwhile, were holding the powerful University of North Dakota to a two-touchdown win and battling Coe College to a scoreless tie.

The Cards gave two convincing exhibitions of a powerful defense and a clever kicking game in their previous contests, and have been busy for the past week perfecting an offense with which they hope to break into the scoring column for the first time tonight.

Hartman's lineup tonight will have N. Sorenson and James, ends; Francis and H. Sorenson, tackles; King and Hummel, guards; Johnk, center; Loder, quarter; Hoover and Hender or Brown, halves, and Pearey, full.
